“ HER red carpet appearance was overshadowed by the likes of Rachael Taylor and Miranda Kerr but Samantha Harris certainly held her own in the style stakes at the inaugural AACTA's on Tuesday night.

The David Jones ambassador for young women's fashion rocked on the red carpet in a tight-fit Alex Perry BBD (that's big black dress, copyright Confidential) picked out for her by stylist Kelly Smythe.

In less than two weeks the tall stunner will take to the runway alongside Kerr, Nicole Trunfio and Alex Agoston for the annual autumn/winter collection launch, which this year carries a New York theme.

The show will take place on February 15 on level 7 of DJ's flagship store in Elizabeth St.

No word yet though if Harris has set a date for her wedding to fiance and childhood sweetheart Luke Hunt.
